

JESSICA AYALA

Jessica Ayala is an Indigenous Colombian Two-Spirit multi discipline artist. Miss Ayala is a spoken word poet, percussionist, published author, public speaker, diversity trainer and writer-in-residence alumni of Charlotte Street Foundation. Their work is a fusion of her heritage merging oral tradition, storytelling, poetry, song, and native percussion; creating spaces to explore concepts of Brown joy, decolonization and internalized oppression.

PERFORMANCES

10/7/22	Northern Kentucky University	Highland, KY
3/19/22	Cornell College.	Mount Vernon, IA
10/3/20	Widener University	Philadelphia, PA
9/16/20	Maryville University	St. Louis, MO
2/22/20	VersoFrontera Literacy Festival	La Feria, TX
2/21/20	US Hispanic Leadership Conference	Chicago, IL
10/14/19	Tank And The Bangas	Kansas City, MO
10/4/19	University of Cincinnati	Cincinnati, OH
6/1/19	Kansas State University	Manhattan, KS
4/4/19	Illinois State University	Bloomington, IL

PRESS LINKS

Videos: <https://www.jessicaayala.com/spokenword>

Music: <https://www.jessicaayala.com/spokenword>

Bios: <https://www.jessicaayala.com/bio>

PRESS HANDELS

<https://www.instagram.com/iamjessicaayala/>

<https://www.facebook.com/iamjessicayala>

<https://www.jessicaayala.com/>

CONTACT

(816) 889-8050

iamjessicaayala@gmail.com

www.jessicaayala.com